REPORT

No. 6 Police Station, Station,

Date December 1st, 1930.

Subject (in full) Unattached Chinese Invitation Card.

Made by and Forwarded by Acting Inspector

Sir,

On Saturday afternoon both Wood Police Constables [illegible]) approached the undersigned stating that he had given [illegible] to attend at and be of assistance in the evacuation of [illegible] Restaurant, Nanking Road (one month old), which is the usual Chinese custom. I understood from the Police that the owner would be here to his name and not at Box No. [illegible] Restaurant, Nanking Road, and that no invitation cards were to be issued, therefore I did not think it necessary to forward the usual application for permission. About 50 persons attended including about 20 Chinese detectives, the remainder being the Police's relatives. The total cost of the dinner was $27.20.

Had I known that invitation cards were to be issued and the dinner held in a public place, I would certainly have recommended the usual application.

I am, Sir,

Yours obedient S.,

J. Hewitt
